II. Background

The Department of Labor, as part of its continuing effort to reduce paperwork and respondent (i.e., employer) burden, conducts a preclearance consultation program to provide the public with an opportunity to comment on proposed and continuing information collection requirements in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(2)(A)).

This program ensures that information is in the desired format, reporting burden (time and costs) is minimal, collection instruments are clearly understood, and OSHA’s estimate of the information collection burden is accurate. The Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (the Act) (29 U.S.C. 651 et seq.) authorizes information collection by employers as necessary or appropriate for enforcement of the Act or for developing information regarding the causes and prevention of occupational injuries, illnesses, and accidents (29 U.S.C. 657).

Paragraph (g)(4)(ii)(I) of the Cranes and Derricks Standard for Construction; Posting Weight and Load Capacity of Personnel Platforms (29 CFR 1926.550) requires employers to post conspicuously with a plate or other permanent marking the weight and rated load capacity or maximum intended loads of each platform used to raise and lower employees to a worksite using a crane or derrick. This requirement helps employers to avoid exceeding the lifting capacity of such platforms and the cranes or derrick being used to lift the platforms. Therefore, this requirement can prevent the platform, crane, or derrick from collapsing and causing serious injury to death to employees on or below the platform.

III. Special Issues for Comment

OSHA has a particular interest in comments on the following issues:

- Whether the proposed information collection requirements are necessary for the proper performance of the Agency’s functions, including whether the information is useful;
- The accuracy of OSHA’s estimate of the burden (time and costs) of the information collection requirements, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- The quality, utility, and clarity of the information collected; and
- Ways to minimize the burden on employers who must comply; for example, by using automated or other technological information collection and transmission techniques.

IV. Proposed Actions

OSHA is proposing to extend the information collection requirement specified by paragraph (g)(4)(ii)(I) of Sec. 1926.550. The Agency will summarize the comments submitted in response to this notice and will include this summary in its request to OMB to extend the approval of this information collection requirement contained in the Standard.

Type of Review: Extension of currently approved information collection requirements.

Title: Cranes and Derricks Standard for Construction; Posting Weight and Load Capacity of Personnel Platforms (29 CFR 1926.550).

OMB Number: 1218–0151.

Number of Respondents: 2,750 (platforms).

Frequency of Response: On occasion.

Total Responses: 2,750.

Average Time per Response: Five minutes to post or mark a platform.

Estimated Total Burden Hours: 229. Estimated Cost (Operation and Maintenance): $0.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

Draft Regulatory Guide; Issuance, Availability

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) has issued for public comment a draft of a new guide in the agency’s Regulatory Guide Series. This series has been developed to describe and make available to the public such information as methods that are acceptable to the NRC staff for implementing specific parts of the NRC’s regulations, techniques that the staff uses in evaluating specific problems or postulated accidents, and data that the staff needs in its review of applications for permits and licenses.

The new draft regulatory guide, entitled “Risk-Informed, Performance-Based Fire Protection Program Under 10 CFR 50.48(c),” which the Nuclear Energy Institute (NEI) has promulgated as document #NEI 04–02.

It is the staff’s intent to endorse a version of NEI 04–02, as appropriate, in the final regulatory guide, consistent with the new risk-informed, performance-based fire protection rule, specified in Title 10, Section 50.48(c), of the Code of Federal Regulations [10 CFR 50.48(c)], which the NRC has issued for existing light-water nuclear power plants. This new regulation provides a voluntary alternative to the requirements of Appendix X to 10 CFR part 50, “Fire Protection Program for Nuclear Power Facilities Operating Prior to January 1, 1979.” As such, the new rule endorses a national consensus standard (NEI 04–02), sets performance goals and criteria, and takes advantage of experience and enhanced methodologies.

The NRC staff is soliciting comments on draft regulatory guide DG–1139, and comments may be accompanied by relevant information or supporting data. Please mention DG–1139 (50.48(c) RG) in the subject line of your comments. Comments on this draft regulatory guide submitted in writing or in electronic form will be made available to the public in their entirety on the NRC’s rulemaking Web site. Personal information will not be removed from your comments. You may submit comments by any of the following methods.

Mail comments to: Rules and Directives Branch, Office of Administration, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555–0001.
