MEMORANDUM FOR BERYLLIUM SHIPYARD AND CONSTRUCTION HEARING PARTICIPANTS

FROM: WILLIAM G. PERRY, CIH
Director
Directorate of Standards and Guidance

SUBJECT: Reopening of the docket to allow for submission of post-hearing comments and briefs

The purpose of this memorandum is to announce that the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has reopened the beryllium docket (Docket No. OSHA-H005C-2006-0870). It has been reopened to allow participants that filed notices of intention to appear at the hearing to submit post hearing comments, additional evidence and data, and briefs on OSHA’s Notice of Proposed Rulemaking for the Occupational Exposure to Beryllium for Construction and Shipyard Industries (84 FR 53902). The docket is available at the federal government’s e-rulemaking portal, http://www.regulations.gov. As per the administrative law judge’s order, participants may submit additional evidence and data relevant to the rulemaking until Thursday, January 16, 2020. At that point, the record will close for the receipt of information and data, but will remain open for an additional 15 days, until January, 31, 2020, for the submission of final briefs, arguments, and summations.
