SPRINGDALE, ARKANSAS

The U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), Little Rock Area Office, Oklahoma City Area Office, the Arkansas Department of Labor OSHA Consultation Service and the Northwest Arkansas Worker Justice Center (NWAJWC) in Springdale, Arkansas, continue to recognize the value of maintaining a collaborative relationship to foster safer and more healthful American workplaces. To that end, OSHA and the NWAJWC hereby renew the Alliance signed August 12th, 2010, with a continued emphasis on reducing and preventing exposure to safety and health hazards. Specifically, OSHA's Little Rock Area Office, Oklahoma City Area Office and the Arkansas Department of Labor OSHA Consultation Service are committed to providing NWAJWC members and others with information, guidance, and access to training resources that will help them protect the health and safety of workers and understand the rights of workers and the responsibilities of employers under the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSH Act). Through the Alliance, the organizations will continue to address falls, electrical, struck-by, chemical and caught-in/between hazards. In renewing this Alliance, OSHA and NWAJWC recognize that OSHA's State Plan and On-site Consultation Project partners are an integral part of the OSHA national effort.

OSHA's Alliances provide parties an opportunity to participate in a voluntary cooperative relationship with OSHA for purposes such as raising awareness of OSHA's rulemaking and enforcement initiatives, training and education, and outreach and communication. These Alliances have proved to be valuable tools for both OSHA and its Alliance participants. By entering into an Alliance with a party, OSHA is not endorsing or promoting, nor does it intend to endorse or promote, any of that party's products or services.

An implementation team made up of representatives of each organization will meet to develop a plan of action, determine working procedures, and identify the roles and responsibilities of the participants. In addition, they will meet at least three times per year to track and share information on activities and results in achieving the goals of the Alliance. OSHA team members will include representatives of the Little Rock, Arkansas and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma Area Offices , the Arkansas Department of Labor OSHA Consultation Service and any other appropriate offices. OSHA will encourage State Plan States' and OSHA On-site Consultation Projects' participation on the team.

This agreement will remain in effect for two years from the date of signing. Any signatory may terminate it for any reason at any time, provided they give 30 days written notice. This agreement may be modified at any time with the written concurrence of all signatories.
