Non-Policy Issuances

- I. Purpose. Effective administration of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 requires that OSHA provide information to its staff, partners, customers and stakeholders, and to the general public, and that its statements of Agency policy and procedure, and its non-policy issuances (NPI), including such supplementary guidance materials as Letters of Interpretation (LI) and other non-policy statements issued by the Agency, be reliable and accurate reflections of Agency positions; complete and up-to-date; easy to read and understand; and easy to locate and reference. The management of OSHA policy issuances is governed by OSHA Instructions ADM 8-0.2 and ADM 8-0.3. In order to effectively manage the communication of NPIs, this instruction establishes a system and fixes responsibility for the management, clearance and release of such materials by the Agency.
- II. Scope. This instruction applies OSHA-wide.
- III. Cancellations. None.
- IV. References. OSHA Instruction ADM 8-0.2, OSHA Policy Issuances; OSHA Instruction ADM 8-0.3, OSHA Directives System; OSHA Instruction ADM 12-0.1, OSHA Classification System, ADM 1-0.20, OSHA Internet and Intranet Policies and Guidelines.
- V. State Impact. This Instruction is not a Federal Program Change requiring State adoption or notice, but States are encouraged to consider its implications for their operations.

 - 2. Provide to all reviewers of proposed NPIs appropriate policy and other background information to assure that the proposed issuance is thoroughly understood and considered.
 - 3. Obtain and appropriately consider critical policy and other issues identified by subordinate staff and others in the development of such proposed NPIs.
 - 4. Considering the subject and intended application of a proposed NPI, request review and clearance proposed issuances by appropriate OSHA Directorates, Regions and Offices, the national or regional Office of the Solicitor, the Assistant Secretary, and other entities.
 - 5. Refer to their Deputy Assistant Secretary any unresolved disagreements or issues concerning the substance or potential policy implications of a proposed NPI, or the priority accorded to its review, that emerge during the clearance process.
- E. OSHA Program Directors and Regional Administrators Receiving a Proposed NPI for Review and Clearance shall carefully consider each such proposed NPI (and any associated critical policy or non-policy issues identified by their subordinate staff), and promptly respond to the originator, with respect to:
 - 1. Technical considerations;
 - 2. Its potential impact upon the programs and policies for which the Program Manager or Regional Administrator is responsible;

Agency policy or procedure, therefore, shall not be established or amended, nor shall the OSH Act be interpreted, by memorandum, letter, e-mail, report or any other non-policy format, regardless of medium.

- XIII. Required Training. The head of each OSHA Directorate, Region or Office that issues NPIs shall periodically provide training to involved staff to ensure that the established clearance procedures and processes are understood and consistently applied.
- XIV. Establishment and Maintenance of Clearance Records. The head of each OSHA Directorate, Region or Office that issues NPIs must maintain, in a manner providing for easy retention and retrieval, a record documenting the views and clearance of each responsible position and entity identified in the applicable written procedure as a mandatory clearance point.
