

DEPARTMENT OF LABOREmployee Benefits Security Administration*Proposed Extension of Information Collection Request Submitted for Public Comment; Affordable Care Act Internal Claims and Appeals and External Review Procedures for Non-Grandfathered Plans

AGENCY: Employee Benefits Security Administration, Department of Labor.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Department of Labor (the Department), in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA 95) (44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(2)(A)), provides the general public and Federal agencies with an opportunity to comment on proposed and continuing collections of information. This helps the Department assess the impact of its information collection requirements and minimize the public's reporting burden. It also helps the public understand the Department's information collection requirements and provide the requested data in the desired format. The Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA) is soliciting comments on the proposed extension of the information collection provisions of the regulations under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (Affordable Care Act) that are discussed below. A copy of the information collection requests (ICRs) may be obtained by contacting the office listed in the ADDRESSES section of this notice. ICRs also are available at reginfo.gov (<http://www.reginfo.gov/public/do/PRAMain>).

DATES: Written comments must be submitted to the office shown in the ADDRESSES section on or before February 8, 2011.

ADDRESSES: G. Christopher Cosby, Department of Labor, Employee Benefits Security Administration, 200 Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20210, (202) 693-8410, FAX (202) 693-4745 (these are not toll-free numbers).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This notice requests public comment on the Department's request for extension of the Office of Management and Budget's (OMB) approval of the information collection requests (ICRs) contained in the rule described below that relates to the Affordable Care Act. OMB approved the ICR under the emergency procedures for review and clearance in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13, 44 U.S.C. Chapter 35) and 5 CFR 1320.13. The Department is not proposing any changes to the existing ICRs at this time. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, an information collection unless it displays a valid OMB control number. A summary of the ICRs and the current burden estimates follows:

Agency: Employee Benefits Security Administration, Department of Labor.

Title: Affordable Care Act Internal Claims and Appeals and External Review Procedures for Non-grandfathered Plans.

Type of Review: Extension without change of a currently approved collection of information.

OMB Number: 1210-0144.

Affected Public: Individuals or households; Business or other for-profit; Not-for-profit institutions.

Respondents: 606,709.

Responses: 61,803.

Estimated Total Burden Hours: 263.

Estimated Total Burden Cost (Operating and Maintenance): $242,828.

Description: The Affordable Care Act added Public Health Service Act (PHS Act) section 2719, which provides rules relating to internal claims and appeals and external review processes. On July 23, 2010, interim final regulations were issued implementing PHS Act section 2719 for internal claims and appeals and external review processes.¹ With respect to internal claims and appeals processes for group health coverage, PHS Act section 2719 and paragraph (b)(2)(i) of the interim final regulations provide that group health plans and health insurance issuers offering group health insurance coverage must comply with the internal claims and appeals processes set forth in 29 CFR 2560.503-1 (the DOL claims procedure regulation) and update such processes in accordance with standards established by the Secretary of Labor in paragraph (b)(2)(ii) of the regulations.

PHS Act section 2719 and the interim final regulations also provide that group health plans and issuers offering group health insurance coverage must comply either with a State external review process or a Federal review process. The regulations provide a basis for determining when plans and issuers must comply with an applicable State external review process and when they must comply with the Federal external review process.

The claims procedure regulation imposes information collection requests (ICRs) as part of the reasonable procedures that an employee benefit plan must establish regarding the handling of a benefit claim. These requirements include third-party notice and disclosure requirements that the plan must satisfy by providing information to participants and beneficiaries of the plan. The ICR currently is scheduled to expire on February 28, 2011.

Focus of Comments

The Department of Labor (Department) is particularly interested in comments that:

- Evaluate whether the collections of information are necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;
- Evaluate the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the collections of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and
- Minimize the burden of the collections of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., by permitting electronic submissions of responses.

Comments submitted in response to this notice will be summarized and/or included in the ICRs for OMB approval of the extension of the information collection; they will also become a matter of public record.

Dated: November 29, 2010.

Joseph S. Piacentini,

Director, Office of Policy and Research, Employee Benefits Security Administration.

[Docket No. OSHA-2009-0025]

Expansion of the Scope of NRTL Recognition of Underwriters Laboratories Inc.; Modification to the Scopes of NRTL Recognition of FM Approvals LLC, Intertek Testing Services NA Inc., and Underwriters Laboratories Inc.

AGENCY: Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), Labor.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: This notice announces the Occupational Safety and Health

Administration's final decision expanding the recognition of Underwriters Laboratories Inc., (UL) as a Nationally Recognized Testing Laboratory (NRTL) under 29 CFR 1910.7. This notice also modifies the scopes of recognition of the following three NRTLs: FM Approvals LLC, Intertek Testing Services NA Inc., and Underwriters Laboratories Inc.

DATES: The expansion of recognition and modification to the scopes of recognition becomes effective on December 10, 2010.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: MaryAnn Garrahan, Director, Office of Technical Programs and Coordination Activities, NRTL Program, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue, NW., Room N-3655, Washington, DC 20210, or phone (202) 693-2110.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Notice of Final Decision

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) hereby gives notice that it is expanding recognition of Underwriters Laboratories Inc., (UL) as an NRTL. UL's expansion covers the use of additional test standards. OSHA's current scope of recognition for UL is in the following informational Web page: <http://www.osha.gov/dts/otpca/nrtl/ul.html>.

OSHA recognition of an NRTL signifies that the organization meets the legal requirements specified in 29 CFR 1910.7. Recognition is an acknowledgment that the organization can perform independent safety testing and certification of the specific products covered within its scope of recognition, and is not a delegation or grant of government authority. As a result of recognition, employers may use products approved by the NRTL to meet OSHA standards that require product testing and certification.

The Agency processes applications by an NRTL for initial recognition, or for expansion or renewal of this recognition, following requirements in Appendix A to 29 CFR 1910.7. This appendix requires that the Agency publish two notices in the Federal Register in processing such an application. In the first notice, OSHA announces the application and provides its preliminary finding and, in the second notice, the Agency provides its final decision on the application. These notices set forth the NRTL's scope of recognition or modifications of that scope. OSHA maintains an informational Web page for each NRTL that details its scope of recognition.

These pages are available from the Web site at <http://www.osha.gov/dts/otpca/nrtl/index.html>. Each NRTL's scope of recognition has three elements: (1) The type of products the NRTL may test, with each type specified by its applicable test standard; (2) the recognized site(s) that has/have the technical capability to perform the testing and certification activities for test standards within the NRTL's scope; and (3) the supplemental program(s) that the NRTL may use, each of which allows the NRTL to rely on other parties to perform activities necessary for product testing and certification.

UL submitted an application, dated February 20, 2008, as an amendment to its application for renewal of recognition. (Ex. 2—UL expansion application dated 2/20/2008.) This amendment requested an expansion of recognition to add 98 standards¹ to UL's scope, and to delete several test standards from its scope. The NRTL Program staff determined that 49 of the requested standards are "appropriate test standards" within the meaning of 29 CFR 1910.7(c). UL later modified its request to reduce the number of the appropriate standards to 35. (Ex. 3—UL amended expansion application dated 2/16/2010.)

In connection with this request, NRTL Program staff did not perform any on-site review of UL's recognized sites. The staff only performed a comparability analysis,² and recommended expansion of UL's recognition to include the 35 test standards. The Agency published a preliminary notice announcing the expansion application in the Federal Register on April 26, 2010 (79 FR 21664). OSHA requested comments on the notice by May 11, 2010; OSHA received no comments in response to this notice. OSHA now is proceeding with this final notice to grant UL's expansion application.

All public documents pertaining to the UL application are available for review by contacting the Docket Office, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue, NW., Room N-2625, Washington, DC 20210. These materials also are available online at <http://www.regulations.gov> under Docket No. OSHA-2009-0025.

¹ UL requested recognition for ANSI/AAMI ES60601-1:2005, but OSHA has not yet determined whether this standard may be used by NRTLs. OSHA will request public comment on the suitability of this standard in an upcoming Federal Register notice.

² This analysis involves determining whether the testing and evaluation requirements of test standards already in an NRTL's scope are comparable to the requirements in the standards requested by the NRTL.

Final Decision and Order

NRTL Program staff examined UL's application, the comparability analysis, and other pertinent information. Based upon this examination and the analysis, OSHA finds that UL meets the requirements of 29 CFR 1910.7 for expansion of its recognition, subject to the limitation and conditions listed below. Pursuant to the authority granted by 29 CFR 1910.7, OSHA hereby expands the recognition of UL, subject to this limitation and these conditions.

Limitation

Notes:

^aRecognition for this standard does not apply to testing and certification of equipment or materials used in installations excluded from the provisions of subpart S in 29 CFR 1910 by section 1910.302(a)(2).

^bOSHA limits recognition for this standard to testing and certification of products used within recreational vehicles and mobile homes.

^cOSHA limits recognition of this standard to testing and certification of the electrical devices falling within the standard's scope.

The designations and titles of the above test standards were current at the time of the preparation of this notice.

OSHA limits recognition of any NRTL for a particular test standard to equipment or materials (i.e., products) for which OSHA standards require third-party testing and certification before use of the product in the workplace. Consequently, if a test standard also covers any product for which OSHA does not require such testing and certification, an NRTL's scope of recognition does not include that product.

The American National Standards Institute (ANSI) may approve the test standards listed above as American National Standards. However, for convenience, we may use the designation of the standards-developing organization for the standard as opposed to the ANSI designation. Under the NRTL Program's policy (see OSHA Instruction CPL 1-0.3, Appendix C, paragraph XIV), any NRTL recognized for a particular test standard may use either the proprietary version of the test standard or the ANSI version of that standard. Contact ANSI to determine whether a test standard is currently ANSI-approved.

Conditions

UL also must abide by the following conditions of the recognition, in addition to those conditions already required by 29 CFR 1910.7:

1. UL must allow OSHA access to its facilities and records to ascertain continuing compliance with the terms of its recognition, and to perform investigations as OSHA deems necessary;

2. If UL has reason to doubt the efficacy of any test standard it is using under this program, it must promptly inform the test standard-developing organization of this concern and provide that organization with appropriate relevant information upon which it bases its concern;

3. UL must not engage in, or permit others to engage in, any misrepresentation of the scope or conditions of its recognition. As part of this condition, UL agrees that it will allow no representation that it is either a recognized or an accredited NRTL without clearly indicating the specific equipment or material to which this recognition applies, and also clearly indicating that its recognition is limited to specific products;

4. UL must inform OSHA as soon as possible, in writing, of any change of ownership, facilities, or key personnel, and of any major changes in its operations as an NRTL, including details of these changes;

5. UL will meet all the terms of its recognition, and will always comply with all OSHA policies pertaining to this recognition; and

6. UL will continue to meet the requirements for recognition in all areas covered by its scope of recognition.

Issue Regarding NFPA Standards

In this notice, OSHA is modifying the scopes of recognition of three NRTLs. Specifically, five standards that OSHA currently includes, to varying degrees, in the scopes of recognition of these NRTLs are not "appropriate test standards" under 29 CFR 1910.7(c) because they do not primarily cover product-safety testing. In addition, OSHA has no requirement for NRTL approval of the systems covered by these standards. Consequently, OSHA is removing the test standards from the scopes of recognition of each affected NRTL (see list below).

OSHA specifies a scope of recognition for each NRTL that includes a list of product-safety test standards that the NRTL may use in testing and certifying (i.e., approving) products; NRTLs must demonstrate that the products conform to "appropriate test standards," as defined under 29 CFR 1910.7(c). "Appropriate test standards" are consensus-based product-safety test standards developed and maintained by U.S.-based standards-developing organizations (SDOs). These test standards are not OSHA standards, which are general requirements that employers must meet; the test standards specify technical safety requirements that particular types of products must meet.

The notice for the expansion described above also proposed the removal of these five test standards from each affected NRTL's scope of recognition. OSHA requested comments on the notice by May 11, 2010; OSHA received no comments in response to this notice. OSHA now is proceeding with this final notice modifying the scopes of recognition of the affected NRTLs (see list below).

OSHA will incorporate the modifications specified by this notice on its informational Web page for each affected NRTL. This page details OSHA's official scope of recognition for the NRTL, including the standards the NRTL may use to certify products under OSHA's NRTL Program. Access to these Web pages is available through <http://www.osha.gov/dts/otpca/nrtl/index.html>.

*Modification to Each NRTL's Scope of Recognition:*³
