qualified mechanic trained to perform the examination.

(g) Prior to towing operation, testing of the brakes and steering shall be performed at a protected location. The test shall include fully pressurizing the air system to ensure the brakes function properly and depleting the air system to ensure the “fail safe” brakes re-apply at the proper pressures.

(h) All qualified mechanics shall be trained to perform the installation of the power pack to tow a vehicle.

(i) Loaded haul trucks shall not be towed. Loads shall be dumped or otherwise removed prior to towing.

(j) Prior to towing operations, the route of travel shall be cleared of traffic and all persons in the affected area notified.

(k) No more than 60 days after this Proposed Decision and Order (PDO) becomes final, the petitioner shall submit revisions to its approved 30 CFR part 48 training plan that address the requirements in the PDO to the MSHA District Manager.

In support of the proposed alternative method, the petitioner submitted task training instructions on the operation of the Kubota Model D1105, serial number 1GZ1802, engine driven hydraulic power pack.

The petitioner assert that the alternate method proposed will at all times guarantee no less than the same measure of protection afforded the miners under the mandatory standard.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:
I. Background
The Department of Labor, as part of the continuing effort to reduce paperwork and respondent (i.e., employer) burden, conducts a preclearance consultation program to provide the public with an opportunity to comment on proposed and continuing information collection requirements in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA) (44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(2)(A)). This program ensures that information is in the desired format. When the burden (time and costs) is minimal, the collection instruments are clearly understood, and OSHA’s estimate of the information collection burden is accurate. The Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (OSH Act) (29 U.S.C. 651 et seq.) authorizes information collection by employers as necessary or appropriate for enforcement of the OSH Act or for developing information regarding the causes and prevention of occupational injuries, illnesses, and accidents (29 U.S.C. 657). The OSH Act also requires that OSHA obtain such information with minimum burden upon employers, especially those operating small businesses, and to reduce to the maximum extent feasible unnecessary duplication of effort in obtaining information (29 U.S.C. 657).

The following sections describe who uses the information collected under each requirement, as well as how they use it.
The HAZWOPER standard specifies a number of collections of information (paperwork) requirements. Employers can use the information collected under the HAZWOPER rule to develop the various programs the standard requires and to ensure that their workers are trained properly about the safety and health hazards associated with hazardous waste operations and emergency response to hazardous waste releases. OSHA will use the records developed in response to this standard to determine adequate compliance with the standard’s safety and health provisions. The employer’s failure to collect and distribute the information required in this standard will affect significantly OSHA’s effort to control and reduce injuries and fatalities. Such failure would also be contrary to the direction Congress provided in Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act (SARA).

II. Special Issues for Comment
OSHA has a particular interest in comments on the following issues:
• Whether the proposed information collection requirements are necessary for the proper performance of the agency’s functions to protect workers, including whether the information is useful;
• The accuracy of OSHA’s estimate of the burden (time and costs) of the information collection requirements, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
• The quality, utility, and clarity of the information collected; and
• Ways to minimize the burden on employers who must comply; for example, by using automated or other technological information collection, and transmission techniques.
III. Proposed Actions

OSHA is requesting that OMB extend the approval of the information collection requirements contained in the Standard on Hazardous Wastes Operations and Emergency Response (HAZWOPER). The agency is requesting an adjustment decrease of 9,293 burden hours (from 260,295 hours to 251,002 hours). This decrease is due to a slight decline in the number of emergency response organizations from 29,727 to 27,186, a decrease of 2,541 organizations.

OSHA will summarize the comments submitted in response to this notice and will include this summary in the request to OMB to extend the approval of the information collection requirements.

Type of Review: Extension of a currently approved collection.
