

Proclamation

by Governor Jim Justice

Whereas, West Virginia workers build our homes, roads, schools, and hospitals; provide food for our families; provide care to the sick and injured; create goods; and provide services for people around the world; and

Whereas, their work improves our families, communities, and our great keystone state; and

Whereas, it is a tragedy when a mother, father, sister, brother, or child goes to work and doesn't return home and a family's loss is immeasurable; and

Whereas, West Virginians lose their lives each year on the job while others suffer injuries and illnesses; and

Whereas, we gather each year to honor the memory of West Virginia's fallen workers and rededicate our efforts to improve safety and health in every workplace in the state; and

Whereas, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) shall continue its commitment to workplace safety to reduce the number of workplace fatalities, accidents, and illnesses.

Now, Therefore, Be it Resolved that I, Jim Justice, Governor of the Great State of West Virginia, do hereby proclaim April 28, 2024 as:

Workers Memorial Day in the Mountain State and encourage all citizens to join me in observance.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of West Virginia to be affixed.

Done at the Capitol, City of Charleston, State of West Virginia, this the First day of April, in the year of our Lord, Two Thousand Twenty-Four, and in the One Hundred Sixty-First year of the State.

Jim Justice
Governor

By the Governor:

Mac Warner
Secretary of State
